Central Library Elevator Temporarily out of Order

In order to accommodate easy access to the computers the following changes have been made:

- JMRL has added another accessibility computer terminal on the main floor to accommodate patrons who can't use the stairs - this is called Main Floor Accessibility Station.
- In Monticello Avenue the accessibility station has been renamed to Lab Accessibility Station
- The Children's Dept has launched 4 Internet computers
- Reservations for the Jobs computers should be made by Reference staff in that department.
- Printing done at the Main Accessibility Station will be routed to the Children's Dept.

To access the 3rd floor meeting rooms, please use the stairwell in the Children's room or the stairs near the main floor restrooms.

To access the Monticello Avenue computer lab please use the stairs at the end of the building between the Young Adult and Mystery sections.
