

GROUP VISITS

Jefferson-Madison Regional Library welcomes visits by groups (defined as 10 or more people). Group visits may include library tours, registering library cards, library instruction, storytimes, and/or attendance at special programs. To ensure a positive library experience the library requires advance notification of group visits. The library reserves the right to schedule group visits to limit the length and number of visits by any one group to be compatible with staffing and programming. Group attendance at special public programs may be restricted due to space limitations.
